

Star Lights Pathway as Miss Moffatt Ascends to Job's Daughters' Throne

With a large star symbolic of the one which appeared in Bethlehem when Christ was born lighting the pathway, Miss Jane Moffatt ascended to the throne as Honored Queen of Job's Daughters at installation ceremonies in the Masonic Temple last night.

The star, and figures of a shepherd and his flock at the west end of the hall, carried out the "Oh Holy Night" theme chosen by Miss Moffatt for the occasion. Presiding at the rites was Retiring Honored Queen Carol Campbell, who has held this highest Jobite office since last June.

Members of the court following the same star-lighted pathway to their stations included the line officers, Janice Crabtree, senior princess; Carol Mayo, junior princess; Sally Speck, guide; and Diane Allen, marshal.

Appointive leaders seated were Linda Thayne, recorder; Georgia Rhodes, musician; Susan Babcock, chaplain; Judy Cook, treasurer; Karen Rice, librarian; Sonja Mooneyham, senior custodian; Marian Smith, junior custodian; Deanna Ball, inner guard; Joan Blackman, outer guard; Jean Du Rant, first messenger; Beverly Sowie, second messenger; Joan Thomas, third messenger; Peggy Sprout, fourth messenger; Janalee Bristo, fifth messenger; Kay Smith, electrician; Barbara Sandusky, page; Linda Lane and Lenora Sexton, obligations chairmen; and Elizabeth Hedgecock, choir director.

Past honored queens taking installing officer positions were Marian McDonald, guide; Donna Wolf, marshal; Beverly Chambers, chaplain; Beverly Hood, junior custodian; Pat Cleve, senior custodian; and Harriet Peterson, recorder.

Janet Poh, installing musician, provided accompaniment while Earl Peterson sang "I Believe" as a tribute to the retiring honored queen; "O Holy Night," to carry out the new queen's installation theme, and "The Lord's Prayer."

Little Sandy Crabtree, sister of the new senior princess, served as jewel bearer, while Leonard Babcock delivered the invocation and benediction.

The Jobite colors, purple and white, were carried out in refreshment table decor when guests gathered in the banquet hall for a reception following the rites. Taking the center of attraction was triangular cake topped with a crown.

Mrs. Margaret Rhodes, assisted by members of the Mothers Circle, was in charge of the reception.

Several organizations have pledged their support to the Foundation and the Training Center. It was disclosed at last Thursday's board session. The Bachelorettes presented a Christmas party for the 18 children in the school, while the United Stewardess Alumni of the Bay Cities is giving a gift to each child.

The Lady Lions of San Pedro have voted to give 50 percent of their charity funds to the Foundation to help further the work and training of mentally-retarded children.

Meetings are open to the public, Mrs. Bowen said, and any one interested may call her at FAirfax 8-3445 or the president, Marvin Pierce, at TErminAl 2-3463.

Exceptional Kids' Foundation To Elect Leaders Wednesday

Election of officers will highlight next Wednesday's meeting of the Harbor Area Exceptional Children's Foundation, to begin at 7 p.m. at 131 N. Grand St., San Pedro, Agnes Bowen, press chairman, announced this week.

A family Christmas party, with children from the Foundation-sponsored Training Center presenting a short program, will follow the business session. Santa Claus will be on hand to distribute gifts and refreshments will be served by the committee in charge.

Several Torrance children will be included in the cast when the Children's Church of Religious Science presents its yearly program at the Religious Science Church in Redondo Beach Sunday evening, Sept. 20, at 7 o'clock, according to Mrs. John Dowling Jr.

A huge wooden structure in the shape of a Christmas tree will seat nearly 100 children, aged four to 12 years, who will sing Christmas carols during the pageant of the Nativity portrayed by other children. Directing the show are Dr. Evelyn Earle and Mrs. Bernice Fettig of Hermosa Beach, and the church teaching staff.

The public is invited to attend.

TOMORROW NEIGHBORS PLAN PARTY

Royal Neighbors of the Torrance Camp will gather at the Torrance Woman's Clubhouse, 1422 Engracia Ave., tomorrow night for their annual Christmas dinner and gift exchange, according to Mrs. Belva Brase, press chairman.

Turkey will highlight the dinner menu, and Mesdames Susie Walker and Lucille Myers compose the entertainment committee in charge of the evening's program.

Plans for the affair were made when the club met Tuesday of last week at the Clubhouse. Mrs. Mary Baker, assisted by members of the drill team, served as hostess.

Honor Newly-weds Today

Over 100 friends and relatives, p.m., with the groom's parents, of the newly-weds will gather at the 2564 Torrance Blvd. home of the Carl L. Deans this afternoon when they honor their daughter, the former Miss Karen Dean, and her husband, Lawrence Herin, with a post-nuptial reception.

The event will begin at 4 p.m., with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Herin of Inglewood, joining the honored couple and the hosts in the receiving line.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Herin were married at ceremonies in Las Vegas on Nov. 23. They are now making their home on Portola Ave.

MISTLETOE SMOOCH . . . Alvan Hill, past governor of the Moose Lodge, takes advantage of the mistletoe to give his mother, Mrs. Cora Hill, a little kiss. Mrs. Hill was active on the arrangement committee which planned the event, a combination bazaar, dinner, and card party sponsored by Women of the Moose, Torrance Chapter 44, Wednesday night.

Bazaar Crowd Tops 150 Mark

With a sale of mistletoe giving an added spark to the evening, over 150 people gathered at the Moose Hall Wednesday for the annual bazaar, ham dinner, and card party staged by Women of the Moose, Chapter 44.

"We raised over $200 at the event," Mrs. Leonard Swanson, senior regent, said, "and all proceeds will be used to further the support of Mooseheart, Childhood City in which the Moose fraternity is vitally interested."

Included on sale shelves during the afternoon and evening, in addition to the mistletoe twigs, were baked goods, candles, and fancy work. Those attending also got a chance to try their skill at dart games.

Mrs. Swanson, general chairman, was assisted by the following chairmen: Mesdames William Griep, baked goods; James Baudin, and Fred Eshom, dart game; Jess Johnson, dinner; Corde White, fancy work; George Clay, ham and bacon wheel; and Ila Mae Ambach, tickets.

Reflections

By J. HUGH SHERPEY, JR.
OUR BILL OF RIGHTS

On Dec. 15th, 1791, Congress ratified our first amendment: Specifically, the first amendment guarantees that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievance."

This amendment to Our Bill of Rights is the backbone of our liberty as individuals. "Congress shall make no law" doesn't mean with one exception, it doesn't mean we must speak in whispers on given subjects nor forbid speech on certain subjects. It spells our "Congress shall make NO law." That's specific. As long as that amendment is on our books we're free to go to the church of our choice, gather in peaceful assemblage or the least of us may go to the Highest Court for redress of a wrong.

Observe Dec. 15th as the 162nd birthday of the most important document ever made into law.
